No Danger of a Crisis.

New York, Feb. 2.—The crisis which many Eastern journals and financiers seem determined to precipitate does not disturb the Sun's equaninity. It says:

"The banks may continue a little while to note refuse silver, but as soon as their customers begin to take in any considerable quantity of it they have got to accept it the same as other money or else lose their business. If the hoarding of gold should become epidemic, the banks could not escape the demand for it any more than the Treasury could. Their note-holders and their depositors would a make runs upon them, and their stock of gold would soon melt away. This the more clear-sighted of their officers perceive, and they will do all in their powers to avert it. Besides, wherever gold finally goes to a premium, that premium will be so small as not to be worth the loss of interest incurred in watting for it. It will be as it now is in France, nearly nominal, for the reason that there will be so much gold for sale as to swamp the market. We may therefore safely trust to the self-interest of the hanks not to precipitate and the great Republic which sprung from Eogland's loins." "This alliance," the article concludes, "will be as close and useful to the two great English speaking people as that between Austria and Germany," t so small as not to be worth the loss of in-terest incurred in watting for it. It will be as it now is in France, nearly nominal, for the reason that there will be so much a gold for sale as to awamp the market. We may therefore safely trust to the self-tinterest of the banks not to precipitate a silver crisis. Legislation on the subject would alarm the public, and thus do more harm than good. harm than good.

PORTSMOUTH, Va., Feb. 3.—At 1 o'clock this morning John L. Jack shot Carter B. Page in the face, the ball lodging in the neck, inflicting a serious and possibly mortal wound. Jack thought himself slighted by Page in a matter of social courtesy and challenged him. Page went to arm himself and when he returned found Jack waiting at the door of the restaurant where the quarrel had begun. Page gave the word "fire," and nine shots followed each other in quick succession. Jack's fifth shot was the only one that took effect, although Page's pistol was discharged four times. Jack was held for trial. Both young men are well known. Page has a wide circle of connections in this and other States.

CONSUMPTION.

The early symptoms of this disease are a sense of weariness upon little exertion, and disposition to remain passive and idle; a peculiar sensitiveness of the effects of cold, and a shortness of breath upon moving quickly or ascending a hill or stairs, a slight heaking cough with or without expectoration, flying pains throughout the chest or back or under the shoulder-blades; the symptoms are worse towards or during the night; slight fever in the afternoon, cold feet and hands, and in many cases blue lividity of the lips and roots of the finger nalls. The more advanced symptoms are wasting of ficeh, diarrhoes, chills and fever, night sweats, expectoration of yellow pus from the ulcers or cavities in the lungs, with or without a depression of the chest, increasing weakness, and at last a closing up of the air passages of the lungs, causing strangulation or suffocation of the patient for want of power to expectorate the mucus from the lungs. Heretofore the treatment of consumption has been very unsatisactory, both to physicians and their patients, but luckily, since the discovery of the Aerean system of practice, a few years ago, thousands of cases have been completely cured, where, had it not been for this system of practice, a time of practice, a few years ago, thousands of cases have been completely cured, where, had it not been for this system of practice, a time of practice, a few years ago, thousands of cases have been completely cured, where, had it not been for this system of practice, a time of practice, a few years ago, thousands of cases have been completely cured, where, had it not been for this system of practice, a few years ago, thousands of cases have been continued up to the present time. The system of Medicated Inhalation is the only means by which these diseases can be curred. By this means we are enabled to dissolve the hardened mucus in the lungs, ease the cough, facilitate expectoration, contract and heal ulcers and cavities after all hope of cure by ordinary methods is passed.

The "Words of Trails" Which Fell From Br. French's Lips.

"Well, the Times man interviewed me the other day, and I will tell you exactly what I told him. He did not publish my opinion, however, and I will see what you will do with the words of truth that fall from my lips." will see what you will do with the words of truth that fall from my lips."

The above statement from Dr. L. W.
French appeared in some alleged interviews published in the Herald yesterviews published in the Herald yesterday concerning the action of the Chief of Police in arresting the prostitutes on of Police in arresting the prostitutes on Los Angeles street, and the legality of the appropriation for providing counsel for the defense of the Chief in the suits brought against him. The doctor goes on to say that with the enormous salary which Mr. McCarthy receives ($150 a month) he is quite able to pay his own counsel fees ($300 in this case) and should be left to fight his own battle with the criminal classes. Now, the Times has not condemned Dr. French for his opinions, but when he makes a misstatement the public have a right to know the facts. In the first place the "Times man" did not interview him. Meeting the gentleman on Main street about noon Friday, in a control convergation which ensued in a general conversation which ensue in a general conversation which ensued some reference was made to the Chief's case. Dr. French said he opposed extending the slightest aid to any official who exceeded the letter of the law. "Wby," said he, "so far as I know there is no evidence to show that the Chief did not arrest perfectly innocent persons." chief did not arrest periectly limited.

persons."

"Then, Doctor," replied the reporter, "you think that Miss Anita Sanchez has been a much maligned operson, and the various reports circulated concerning her character but the tongue of base slander?"

"It may be," replied the sage of the Board of Public Works, "I am not acquainted with the lady in question, but she has certainly been acquitted in

You will never buy underwear so cheap have appeared in the newspapers, I cannot lose sight of the fact that the courts have pronounced her an innocent person. We must never forget that the law must be respected. Unless the Chief had positive and overwhelming proof of her misconduct he should not ave arrested her or any of the rest of the party, and then only when he had a warrant duly sworn out and signed.
The forms of law must be respected."
As stated, the Traces man had not the slightest intention of interviewing the Doctor or putting any of his words in print. He went his way and had nearly forgotten the conversation, when about 6 o'clock the same evening, while crossing Spring street, he heard a cry behind "Say! say! stop! stop a minute; please."

Looking around he saw his friend the Doctor in close pursuit.
"Why, Doctor, what on earth is the matter?" inquired the TIMES man. "Say, say," said the doctor, some what out of breath, "say, don't put word in the paper about what I said to you this morning."

"Why, Doctor, I had not any intention of reporting you."
"Oh! if you do, oh! if you do," panted the doctor, "I'll make it hot for you;
I'll go for you in the Porcupine next Saturday, now see if I don't."
"Well, Doctor, quiet yourself; I won't expose you this time if you promise not to do it again," and the reporter, who aims to be a good-natured man, went his way, determined that come what might he would not hurt his friend's feelings. But, since the doctor has lately criticised him for suppressing
